

mPulse™

Web Deployment Instructions

Follow these instructions to easily implement mPulse on your site and track your real user metrics.

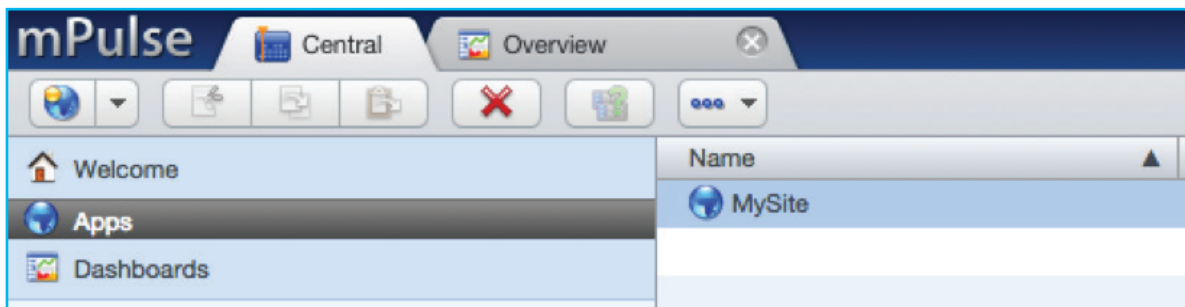

You can add the JavaScript snippet in one of the following ways:

- Embedded in the HTML, as close to the initial <HEAD> as possible. This is usually done by manually placing the JavaScript snippet on every page where data will be collected
- Adding the JavaScript snippet to page templates that automatically place the code when the pages are constructed

Once the tag is placed, it is sent along with the base HTML document the visitor receives.

To get started:

- Open mPulse and you will come to the Overview Dashboard Tab:
- Click on the Central tab, then click on Apps in the left navigation pane.
- Doubleclick your App on the right:

- The Configure Web App window will open:
- Click Show JavaScript -> Copy the contents from the window and deploy to your site without changing any of this code.

Note: mPulse may not work as expected or at all if the code is modified!
